COMING EVENTS.

County Institute, Dec. 15-19.

Good evening! Bear in mind that seats are free in the churches tomorrow.

John O. Keeler has been told that he must be hanged, but there is many a slip between the neck and the rope. Keeler and his advisors are yet hopeful that the board of pardons will grant him a rehearing, and that if this is done that he will escape the death penalty on the ground of mental and physical incompetency.

Buy a Red Cross seal—well, while you are at it buy a dozen or more, of them remembering the great good that is being done with the money raised from the sale of the seals.

Mrs. Pankhurst was arrested upon her return to England with the twenty thousand dollars she received from her lectures in the United States. The anarchist leader might have been sent to jail in this country, for having collected money under false pretense, her lectures not being worth paying for.

Girls as ball hops are being tried out in some cities. We venture to predict that it will not be long until some of these belles will be ringed.

A Berlin plumber has been arrested for stealing the shirt of a German prince. In this country a plumber is not satisfied with anything short of a mortgage on the house in which he works.

Curious Pets.

During a visit to the outer Florida reef, away out on the very last sand bank that can be counted, he called an island. I made the acquaintance of an old Indian fisherman, who had some of the most interesting pets it was ever my good fortune to see.

One was a large red clawed hermit crab, that had taken up its home in an old fashioned silver ornamented pipe, and at all hours of the day and night the clanking of the pipe could be heard, sometimes on the table, again on the wall and often it would roll off and fall with a crash upon the floor, and then there would be a silence for awhile, until, perhaps, the hermit recovered from its surprise and astonishment.

The hermit was thoroughly a house pet, and no sooner did he venture beyond the door than he was in danger of being snatched up by two other pets
—one a man of war hawk and the other a gray pelican. St. Louis Globe

OLD SHIPS.

By waves that drop to voiceless shores.
The old ships remain.
On cranking spars the north wind rings.
And weeps the winter rain.

Gray, battered veterans of the sea,
They swing with listless sway, Arouned no more by storm wind's glee
Or upward splashing spray.

But in the night when all the din
Of life around is still
Their voices rise in accents thin, High with the old and still.

They dream of billowing, belled sails,
Of white-capped sails
Of frolic and of merry merriment,
Of sea-gulls' cries and laughter.

Of voyaging far, under wind and wave
Called forth by the sea's call
Of merriment and of merry merriment,
Of merriment and of merry merriment.

Reside the ships, the sea and swing,
Gray veterans of the sea,
On cranking spars the north wind
rings.

ARTHUR A. McLEAN.

Leading Democrat Faces
Indictment Following the Charges Made by Hennessy.

Arthur A. McLean of Newburg, treasurer of the Democratic state committee, was indicted in the criminal branch of the supreme court on charges of violating the law which makes it a misdemeanor to accept a campaign contribution from a corporation. Another indictment was returned against Everett Fowler of Klegeton, who has been indicted already on a charge of extortion. The new indictment charges him with soliciting a contribution from a corporation. The penalty is a fine of $1,000 and imprisonment for a year or both. These indictments are outgrowths of charges made by John A. Hennessy during the campaign.

GIRL SLAYER HAS CHANCE TO RECOVER

Infatuated Woman Who Killed Salesman Is Gaining.

New York, Dec. 6.—Miss Rose Pres-man, niece of Peter Pressman, president of a cotton goods commission house, lies in the New York hospital with a steel bullet embedded just above her heart. Miss Pressman shot Nathan Chase, a salesman for the Peter Pressman company, while he sat at his desk in the company's office.

Chase had complained to his employer that Miss Pressman annoyed him with her attentions, and about a year ago Pressman discharged his niece, who then was employed as a stenographer in the office. Despondent because Chase did not return her affection, Miss Pressman waited an hour for him. When he bowed cordially to her she drew a revolver from her multi-fired one bullet which struck Chase in the back of the head and caused his death and then turned the weapon on herself in an attempt to commit suicide.

In the New York hospital it was said that Miss Pressman might recover.
She has no fever, and as the bullet which penetrated her chest is steel it is not expected that gangrene will develop. Dr. F. W. Murray and several detectives endeavored to obtain a statement from the young woman, but she refused to talk. She passed a comfortable night, smiled occasionally at her nurses and complained of little pain.

She will be examined with the X ray, and if the bullet can be located and her condition warrants she will be placed on the operating table. If the bullet can be removed before fever sets in her chances of recovery will be increased materially.

Go Into Mine After Bandit.

Salt Lake City, Dec. 6.—The bulkheads which have sealed the mine of Raphael Lopez in the Apex mine were opened, and a force of men entered to learn whether the bandit is there dead or alive, or whether he has eluded the guards.

DEATHS OF A DAY.

til two years ago was a leading practitioner of Lenox, Mass., died at Lawrence, N. Y.

ing in a Seattle shipyard of the battleship Nebraska, died in Seattle from the effects of an operation.

Mrs. Eliza J. Spring, wife of Thomas Spring of Maywood, N. J., is dead. She was eighty-four years old. Last May Mr. and Mrs. Spring celebrated their sixty-fourth wedding anniversary.

Russell R. Noble, for the last forty-nine years town clerk of New Milford, Conn., died at his home there. He was seventy-seven years old. He was a descendant of the Noble family that founded New Milford in 1637.

William C. De Witt, one of the most widely known lawyers in Brooklyn, is dead. Mr. De Witt was directly descended from an old Dutch family. His ancestor, Tharck Clausen De Witt, landed in New York in 1657.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson X.—Fourth Quarter. For
Dec. 7, 1913.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. vi, 8-11, 14-20—Memory Verse, 20—Golden Text, Mark ix, 23—Commentary by Rev. D.
M. Stearns.

The story of the Lord's doings on behalf of Israel reached the ears of many people and melted their hearts and took away their pride (Josh. v, 1).
Man's doings do not work that way, but rather tend to self exaltation. It is therefore easy to tell whether a work is of the Lord or of man. Israel shall yet praise the Lord, proclaim His name, declare His doings among the people (Isa. xli, 4). But all believers should be doing it now, praising His works, declaring His mighty acts (1's, xlv, 4).

Since He is ever waiting to work in us and through us, why not humbly yield and let Him, that He may be glorified? Chapter v, 2-9, tells of the rite of circumcision, which had not been performed since they left Egypt.
Circumcision is suggestive of a work in the believer, for it was given to Abraham as a seal of the righteousness which he had, yet being uncircumcised (Rom. iv, 11). It signified even to Israel a work in the heart, the renouncing of the flesh and true humility before God (Lev. xxi, 4b).

Chapter v, 10, tells of the keeping of the third passover, for we do not read that they observed it during all their wanderings. See the other two in Ex. xii, 6; Num. ix, 5, and note that this also teaches man's helplessness and the mighty hand of the Lord and points onward to the approaching deliverance of Israel from all nations (Ex. xii, 26, 27; Jer. xlii, 5-8; Luke xxii, 15, 16). The manna, the food from heaven, continued all through the forty years, notwithstanding their murmurings and rebellings, until at Gilgal they ate of the old corn of the land (verses 11, 12).

In chapter v, 13-15, we have a test for Joshua. He had just been appointed as the new leader in the place of Moses and had been honored as such at the Jordan. Has he become proud and self sufficient, or is he still meek and submissive? Near Jericho he saw a man with a drawn sword who announced that he was the captain of the host of the Lord. Will Joshua stand on his dignity as the new leader or accept this other? See and hear him.
He fell off his face and did worship and said, "What saith my Lord unto his servant?" He won and was safe as a leader and loosed his shoe from off his foot, as he was told to do, thus acknowledging another as proprietor (Ex. iii, 5; Josh. v, 7).

If we would only live with shoes off, what might we not see of the wonderful working of the Lord! But in order to see the power of God and His working we must be willing to do as seemingly ridiculous things as hearing the ark and stepping into the water expecting it to stop flowing or marching round Jericho blowing trumpets of rams' horns and expecting the walls to fall down.

What I have in mind is something like this: Conducting a religious paper without an advertisement of any kind to help make it go, running a church to use a common phrase without having lectures or festivals or entertaining of any kind to help pay expenses; believing that Bible studies, expositions of the word of God, are what people need and want rather than sermons or essays or popular talks; teaching that the same Jesus will return in person to set up a kingdom of peace and righteousness on this earth and that He is only waiting until the church, His body, shall be gathered from all nations, that He may receive her to Himself ere He shall return in glory; that these truths will lead people to give gladly to missions without personal solicitation, even to the extent of giving $2 or more to missions for every dollar spent at home.

I know that such things seem to many religious people as wild vagaries, and yet I have personally proved the blessing of the Lord in these matters or in most of them for over twenty years.

The ark of the covenant which was so prominent at the crossing of the Jordan is mentioned ten times in verses 4-13, of our lesson chapter, reminding us of the words of our Lord in John xv, 5, "Without Me ye can do nothing." The trumpets of rams' horns tell of atonement by the precious blood of the substitute (Gen. xxii, 13), so both the ark and the trumpets and the priests, all speak of Him who alone can divide the sea or the river or throw down a Jericho and who says to all who are willing to walk with Him,
"I am with you." "I will work and you shall hinder it?" (Isa. xli, 10 xliii, 13).

In verse 2 of our lesson the Lord said unto Joshua, "See, I have given into thine hand Jericho," and yet to possess it he had to be obedient and do just as he was told.

All things are ours in Christ, but we possess our possessions only by holding. Thirteen times they march around the city with no sound but the trumpets until the last round, when at the word from Joshua the people shouted with a great shout, the walls fell flat, and all living creatures were destroyed except those who had not eaten in the house of Hahab (verses 16, 17, 21, 22, 23).

ANTI-SUFFRAGISTS BEFORE COMMITTEE

Request Congress Not to Grant Wishes of Opponents.

Washington, Dec. 5. Opponents of woman suffrage appeared before the house rules committee to argue why a committee on woman suffrage should not be created by the house. The delegation was headed by Mrs. A. M.
Dodge of New York, who was elected president of the national association opposed to woman suffrage.

The delegation took issue with the house committee by arguing that it is speedy action on woman suffrage that the nation needs. An anti-suffrage association which is a collection of quarry labor women, who are on the fringe of the anti-suffrage movement, has been organized.

Speakers of the delegation, against woman suffrage, were a party of the from New York, who would also more than once would say, "This was the only way to get the suffrage movement out of the house and was strongly in favor of it."

Contention was made that the suffrage movement was sporadic in its nature, and that the house was not warranted by its action, as the suf-fragists desired. Debate was made that the suffrage movement had grown to such proportions as to demand a house committee.

WOULD CLOSE "HOTELS."

Boston Mayor's Statement After Inspection Following Fatal Fire.

Boston, Dec. 5. "Every one of these places should be closed," declared Mayor Fitzgerald, after he had completed a tour of several hours among the cheap lodging houses in various sections of the city conducted along the lines of the Arundel, where twenty-eight men lost their lives in a fire.
"The conditions," continued the mayor, "are shameful. It is the duty of society to care for these unfortunate who are forced to seek such places for their lodging."

He suggested the erection of model lodging houses by the city or state.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Following Late Decline, Stocks Continue Downward Tendency.

New York, Dec. 5.—The downward movement which started in the late trading yesterday was in evidence again this morning, nearly all the important issues selling at concessions in the first fifteen minutes, with pronounced weakness in some of the copper stocks. Amalgamated showed an initial loss of seven-eighths point with sales at 70, but quickly rallied to 70 1/4. Utah, which was ex-dividend, showed a loss of one-half point, and a decline of five-eighths point was sustained in Anaconda. Losses of one-half to three-fourths point were recorded in the important railroad issues.

After the first fifteen minutes prices of nearly all the important issues fluctuated within a narrow range, although at times trading was in large blocks. Two houses sold 5,000 shares each of Steel without causing any material change in the price of the stock. The crowd of brokers gathered in Steel was the largest seen in a long period. Nearly all of them had circulars from the Boston operator who has featured himself in such advertising for some time to the effect that if stories of his position on the short side were true he would at 10:30 a. m. put thirty-five 10,000 share buying orders in Steel common. The matter was not taken seriously, and those in the crowd engaged in sarcastic comment on the statement made in the circular. No large buying orders appeared, but there was a quiet demand sufficient to absorb the orders to sell referred to above. Europe was a moderate seller. Governments were unchanged and other bonds firm.

Although trading continued small in volume during the last half of the forenoon, the tone was firm. Reading more than recovered the loss of one-half point at the start. Slight advances were also made in Union Pacific. Steel common and Great Northern Ore.

MISS JANE ADDAMS.

Illinois Suffrage Leader
Who Was Re-elected Vice

The reelection of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw as president and the reorganizing of their constitution was the chief business at the annual convention of the National Association of Suffragists. A resolution by Mrs. O. H. Belmont of New York to transfer the central offices of the national association from New York to Washington failed to arouse any sentiment in its favor, so it was withdrawn. The illness of President Wilson prevented the suffragist delegation from calling on him to set his attitude toward the cause. Miss Jane Addams of Chicago was re-elected vice president.

FIND NEEDLE USED TO DRUG NEWARK BRIDE

Think South American Drug
Clerk Used Rare Poison.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 6.—Ann and Margaret, a young South American, now a drug clerk here, was held in $20,000 bail by Police Judge Haas.

The young man was arrested charged with having drugged a woman in a theater box by stabbing a needle into her hand.

The needle was found. It was an ordinary sewing needle.

The police began examining the point, believing that it held some rare poison.

The police think the poison is of the sort used by South American Indians.

The woman was Miss Marjorie Graff of 411 Jackson avenue, Brooklyn, a bride of two weeks.

Megaro claims that he committed the alleged attack upon Mrs. Graff. He admits, however, that he was found a student in the New Jersey College of Pharmacy, and that he is familiar with the use of drugs. The young man says he is the nephew of Dr. Panrazio Megaro of 315 High street, Newark. No poison or needle was found upon him when he was searched and in his favor it is said that previously he has borne a good reputation.

It was expected that Megaro would be confronted by half a dozen New York, Brooklyn and Newark girls who have had experiences recently similar to that of Mrs. Graff.

St. Louis, Dec. 6.—For two years Oliver Hunter, thirteen years old and known by neighbors as the little father, carried his invalid brother Frank, ten years old on his back ten blocks to and from school. Oliver's task has now ended for the little cripple died on his brother's back. Death from heart disease came while he was being carried home from school.

The little father is inconsolable. He said he would rather have Frank back and the job of carrying him for life.

SNOWDRIFTS STOP TRAFFIC IN DENVER

Blizzard Still Raging Over the Whole of Colorado.

Denver, Dec. 6.—The worst snow storm in Colorado's history was still raging, although it was then showing signs of abatement. Traffic of all kinds is absolutely at a standstill. The street car tracks downtown are buried under from two to four feet of snow. Those sands fought snowdrifts to walk miles to work.

The snowfall has been from sixteen inches in Denver to forty-eight inches on parts of the continental divide. In some places the coal miners are or stick to their thirty-eight inches of snow on the ground, and the strikers are isolated. The state troops quartered in tents experienced great hardships during the night, many tents being blown down.

VILLA'S TROOPS IN CHIHUAHUA CITY

Rebels March Triumphant Into Town Recently Taken.

CONDITIONS IN MEXICO CITY

Constitutionalist Chief to Stay in Chihuahua Only Long Enough to Prepare Army For March to Capital. Party Rushed to United States Border to Meet Fleeing Thousands

Juarez, Dec. 6.—General Villa and 4,500 troops entered Chihuahua in triumph. It was said that he would stay but a very few days, waiting for Venustiano Carranza to come from Hermosillo whereupon Villa would lead his army southward and leave civil affairs in the hands of Carranza. Train service over the Mexican Central between here and Chihuahua is to be resumed shortly and by the middle of December it is expected that trains will be running between Juarez and Chihuahua over the Mexican North-western.

Forty automobiles were sent from Marfa, Tex. to Presidio which is opposite Ojinaga, Mexico, to meet the refugees coming from Chihuahua to the United States. The refugees are accompanied by General Mercado's evacuating federal army were reported fifty miles south of Ojinaga and the border. It is possible that the automobiles will cross the border and enter Mexico after the refugees if they do not reach Ojinaga.

Members of thirty-five of the most prominent families in Chihuahua are among the refugees. They are all without food and water and the weather is extremely cold. There is hardly any likelihood of the rebels overtaking the column. The federal soldiers after reaching the border with the refugees are expected to make their escape to Nuevo Leon.

Conditions in Capital.

City of Mexico, Dec. 6.—Conditions here are rapidly growing serious. Reports which are gradually coming out regarding the advance of the rebels are causing demoralization in the army and several minor officers have been arrested in the last few days on charges of disloyalty.

Many Mexicans are preparing to leave the country fearing a reign of anarchy should General Huerta be overthrown.

One well known politician said that as soon as Villa reached Aguas Calientes Zapata, Genevevo de la O and other irresponsible leaders would fall upon the towns surrounding the City of Mexico and that the hundreds of rebels here would rise to avenge the description of their relatives.

Adolfo de la Lanza, the minister of finance left for France. De la Lanza's mission has not been divulged officially, but it is generally believed he is going to attempt to obtain funds for Huerta.

A PLEASANT AFFAIR

Prothonotary Moore Entertains His Sunday School Class.

Friday evening Prothonotary John H. Moore entertained the members of his Sunday school class at his residence on S. Second street. The 26 members of the class were present, and those who had husbands took them with them so that there were 40 guests present when the festivities began.

Mr. Moore proved himself a very capable and courteous host, and the evening was very pleasantly spent in various kinds of amusements. Fine refreshments were served, to which the guests did full justice.

LUNCH COUNTER

Placed in Pennsy Train on Philadelphia New York Run.

The Pennsylvania Railroad has just completed a new solid steel lunch counter car, and on Monday, December 1, it was placed in service between New York and Philadelphia, on trains which also carry ordinary dining cars. While the novelty of the counter car may for a few days prevent a fair comparison in the patronage of the two kinds of cars, it is planned to continue the experiment for a sufficient period to determine just what is more popular with the traveling public. The object in building the counter car was to see if it would permit of serving meals to passengers quicker—and thus serve satisfactorily more patrons—than is possible in a dining car.

It is time to be thinking about those Xmas photos. Have the McDowell Studio make them for you. Nov. 21—200.

FARMERS' WEEK

An Aid in Increasing Net Returns From the Farm

Farmers' Week at the Pennsylvania State college will be held this year December 29 to January 3. Over 100 lectures and demonstrations of interest and practical value to farmers will be given. The courses are open to women as well as men. The department of home economics will conduct a section throughout the week which should be of special interest to women. The program is so arranged that the specialist as well as the general farmer can attend courses of interest to him throughout every period of the week.

The most expensive item today is meat. Since the cost of the finished product depends upon the cost of the raw material used in producing that product it is interesting and profitable for the feeder to know what it costs to produce beef. This subject is of special interest at this time and Pennsylvania now offers opportunities for the production of beef cattle. The results of experiments in fattening cattle which have been conducted for a number of years, will be outlined.

The production of pork and the handling of meat on the farm will be given a large amount of attention. Professor G. E. Day of the Agricultural College of Canada who is an authority on hogs will be present to discuss some of the more important phases of the hog raising industry.

Poultry. The program for the week contains seven lectures and six demonstrations in Poultry Husbandry.

Anyone interested in any branch of farm life should plan to spend this week at the College. For information or program address, M. S. McDowell, Department of Agricultural Extension, State College, Pennsylvania.

SUFFRAGISTS END NATIONAL SESSION

Failed in Efforts to See President Wilson Personally.

HARMONY AMONG DELEGATES

Miss Harriet May Mills, Proprietress of the New York Women's World, has the honor to be the first woman to carry on a subscription for the purpose of carrying on a propaganda after Dr. Shaw speaks.

Washington, Dec. 6.—The forty-fourth annual session of the National Woman's Suffrage convention closed today. It was a session of harmony and good will. The reports of the various committees were received. The executive committee also met. This was the last of the week's activities of the delegates.

Delegates and registered visitors to the convention were invited to a reception given by Mrs. L. E. Pollock and the wives of cabinet officers.

President Wilson continued to refuse to receive the suffrage committee whom he sent assurance that he would see them if such action were required. The committee was to demand the president that he send a message to congress to amend the constitution to give women the right to vote.

Mrs. L. E. Pollock, wife of the president, in a message to the delegates, said that she was proud to have the women of her state with her in the hall.

If the convention stands in a way, she said, let them make a new one.

Miss Harriet May Mills, of New York, in an address to the delegates, said that she would like to see the women of her state with her in the hall.

After haranguing over next year's fight against the amendment to the constitution, the convention adjourned. The delegates were to meet again in 1914. The convention was a success. The delegates pledged a total of $12,577.

William Hagan, of Pine Run, was admitted to the hospital Thursday, suffering from a fractured leg. Hagan was driving when he fell from the wagon and the wheel ran over his leg.

Richard Pike of Woodland, aged about 22 years, is in the hospital as the result of an accident by which he was peppered in the leg with a bird shot the gun being in the hands of a careless boy. Pike's injuries are not serious.

Clearfield Too Strong for Jefferson County Lads

Last night in the Y. M. C. A. the Clearfield basketball team defeated the Brookville team by the score of 36 to 28. It was a hard fought contest, the Brookville team being in the lead at the end of the first half by a score of 19 to 16, but the Clearfield boys rallied and won out by hard work.

The game was a most interesting one although there were many fouls. The second half was exciting, the teams being tied several times before C. H. S. forged ahead by eight baskets.

ODGEN-MAPES WEDDING

A Guest Writes Up the Matrimonial Event.

A very pretty home wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Mapes, Thursday evening, Dec. 4, 1913, at 5 o'clock when their daughter Miss Claire, became the bride of Garland Z. Odgen of International Falls, Minn.

Only the immediate family were present. They were married by Rev. H. R. Bender of Clearfield. The beautiful ring ceremony was used. The bride wore a mahogany matron's gown.

After a sumptuous wedding supper the happy couple left on the 7:11 train for a honeymoon trip in the different parts of the east after which they will go to their future home in International Falls, Minn.

They received some lovely wedding presents of silverware and linen. Among the gifts was a chest of "flat silver."

We all extend our hearty congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Odgen.

LOOK WHAT'S HERE

Local Hunters Will Find the Following Quite Funny.

"When all of the reports are in I do not think that you will find more than six or seven persons were killed and over 50 injured in hunting accidents in Pennsylvania this year," said Dr. Joseph Kabisus, the secretary of the state game commission, who has been keeping the law with 31 persons killed and 50 injured. He also reported that the hunters had killed 100 deer and 100 turkeys. He also reported that the hunters had killed 100 deer and 100 turkeys. He also reported that the hunters had killed 100 deer and 100 turkeys.

"I do not think that there was so much wilful disregard of game laws this year in some recent years last year for instance there were some seventy deer killed. This year I do not think that there will be any thing like that many and those we have found have been scattered. Last year a number of deer were shot in the South Mountain region. This year the number is much smaller."

Dr. Kabisus says that there are well authenticated instances where a hunter has killed two deer at one shot and that he does not doubt the story from the Cumberland valley that a man shot a buck and killed a doe which was beside him with a single shot.

IT IS EXPENSIVE.

The county commissioners of rice has been swamped the past several months with warrants issued for the payment of scalp bounties. Almost every mail brings bills of this character and scalp hunters come in by train daily.

It is estimated that more than $2000 has already been paid out as bounty on noxious animals killed in this county and the end is not yet. Weasels head the list of animals, the killing of which brings a financial reward to the hunter. The bounty on a weasel is $2 and the county seems to be full of these animals. Other counties are also paying out big money for weasel scalps and the complaint against the $2 bonus is general. The bounty on weasels should not be more than $1, in the opinion of the county commissioners.

INDICTED MEN PLEAD NOT GUILTY

McLean and Fowler, Facing Graft Charges, Surrender.

WHITMAN CONTINUES PROBE

Treasurer of Democratic State Committee and the Man Alleged to Be Murphy's Up State Bagman Appear at Criminal Courts Building Before Warrants Can Be Served

New York, Dec. 6.—Arthur A. McLean for sixteen years treasurer of the Democratic state committee and Everett Fowler alleged to be one of the up state bagmen surrendered at the criminal court building following their indictment in connection with the campaign contribution investigation. Both of the accused entered pleas of not guilty.

McLean was charged with violating the law which makes it a misdemeanor to accept a campaign contribution from a corporation.

Before they could appear for plea ing however they had to wait until Martin W. Littleton counsel for Fowler could make an argument. He was making to have the extortion distinct against his client quashed on the ground that jurisdiction does not lie in New York county.

Littleton also asked that the charge made by the state involves an alleged use of influence in Onondaga county and in here. He declared that the alleged offense was completed when Hull is charged handed the check to Fowler in Syracuse.

While Mr. Littleton was making his argument Mr. Leun waited with his counsel, Isidor Kresel, and a representative of a surety company, who was prepared to give bond.

This was a day of great activity in the graft investigation for besides the arraignment of McLean and Fowler, the John Doe proceedings were resumed before Chief Magistrate McAdoo and John A. Hennessy's three new witnesses were expected to appear for the first time. They are contractors and were expected to tell how they were sandbagged for campaign contributions.

District Attorney Whitman would ask for at least one indictment, it was said. It was also declared that he believed the way was now paved for charges to be made against one of the most prominent Democrats in the state.

MILITANTS AVENGE LEADER.

Burn Mansion, Leaving This Big Sign Retaliation.

London, Dec. 6.—Militant suffragettes, inaugurating their promised campaign of destruction in retaliation for the arrest of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, burned Kelly House, near Skelmorlie, Scotland. The residence was entirely destroyed causing a loss of $125,000.

A huge placard was posted in the grounds bearing the inscription "Retaliation."

The house which is one of the finest on the Clyde coast was untenanted. Suffragist literature was found strewn about the grounds.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst inaugurated a hunger and thirst strike as soon as she was removed from the steamship Majestic at Devonport and has not tasted food or drink since she was put in Exeter jail.

NEW FRENCH PREMIER NAMED

Jean Dupuy to Select Cabinet Succeeding Barthou's Followers.

Paris, Dec. 6.—M. Jean Dupuy was appointed premier by President Poincaré to succeed M. Louis Barthou who resigned after the chamber failed to sustain the government. Dupuy was expected to choose the majority of the ministers from among the radical Republicans.

As editor of the Petit Parisien, a Paris newspaper on the radical Republican side, M. Jean Dupuy had won for himself an important place in French political circles and for many years has represented the department of Hautes Pyrenees in the senate. He was born in 1844 and has already occupied a cabinet position. Among his other activities he is president of the Press Association of Paris.

AT U. B. CHURCH

Rev. College Preaches an Interesting Sermon.

Last night at the U. B. church, Rev. College gave a picture of a tottering old man, bearing his remarks on the last chapter of the book of Ecclesiastes.

He showed how the power of spiritual perception became less as men grow old. He drew a realistic picture of an aged decrepit man, nearing the grave, and told how very few persons accept Christ after passing middle age. His appeal was directed to the young asking them to give their hearts to God in their youth and give a life of useful service to their parents, their country and their God.

The subject for tonight will be "Mourning."

There will be three services led by Rev. College, tomorrow, Sunday, at 11 a. m., 2:30 and 7:30 p. m. Also the regular Sunday School at 9:45.

The service at 2:30 p. m. tomorrow afternoon is for men only. The subject is "The Working Man and the Church." All men are invited to this meeting.

COMING EVENTS.

County Institute, Dec. 15-19.

Good evening! Bear in mind that
row.

John O. Keeler has been told that
many a slip between the neck and
the rope. Keeler and his advisors
are yet hopeful that the board of
pardons will grant him a rehearing,
competency.

Buy a Red Cross seal—well, while
you are at it buy a dozen or more,
of them remembering the great good
that is being done with the money raised from the sale of the seals.

Mrs. Pankhurst was arrested upon her return to England with the twenty thousand dollars she received from her lectures in the United States. The anarchist leader might have been sent to jail in this country,
for having collected money under
false pretense, her lectures not being worth paying for.

Girls as bull hogs are being tried

predict that it will not be long until
some of these belles will be ringed.

a mortgage on the house in which he

Curious Pets.

During a visit to the outer Florida
reef, away out on the very last sand
of the most interesting pets it was ever
my good fortune to see.

One was a large red clawed hermit
an old fashioned silver ornamented
pipe, and at all hours of the day and
off and fall with a crash upon the
for awhile, until, perhaps, the hermit
recovered from its surprise and astonishment.

The hermit was thoroughly a house
pet, and no sooner did he venture beyond the door than he was in danger
other a gray pelican. St. Louis Globe

OLD SHIPS.

By wharves that drip to voiceless
shores,
The old ships remain,
On creaking spars the north wind
rings,
And weeps the winter rain.

Gray, battered veterans of the sea,
They swing with listless sway,
Arouned no more by storm wind's glee
Or upward splashing spray.

But in the night when all the din
Of life around is still
Their voices rise in accents thin, Hark with the old and still

They dream of billowing, belled sails,
Of white-capped sails
Of frolic and of merry merriment,
Of sea-gulls' cries and laughter

Called forth by the sea's call
Of merriment and of merry merriment,
Shall sleep no more

Reside in the harbor, in peace and swing, Gray veterans of the sea,
No more shall they be called Or by the sea or by the wind

ARTHUR A. McLEAN.

Indictment Following the
Charges Made by Hennessy.

Arthur A. McLean of Newburg, treasurer of the Democratic state committee,
accept a campaign contribution from a corporation. Another indictment was returned against Everett Fowler of Klege-
ton, who has been indicted already on a
from a corporation. The penalty is a fine
of $1,000 and imprisonment for a year or
both. These indictments are outgrowths of charges made by John A. Hennessy
during the campaign.

Salesman Is Gaining.

New York, Dec. 6.—Miss Rose Pres-man, niece of Peter Pressman, president of a cotton goods commission house, lies in the New York hospital
above her heart. Miss Pressman shot Nathan Chase, a salesman for the Peter Pressman company, while he sat
at his desk in the company's office.

Chase had complained to his em-
him with her attentions, and about a year ago Pressman discharged his niece, who then was employed as a stenographer in the office. Despondent
because Chase did not return her affection, Miss Pressman waited an hour
his death and then turned the weapon
suicide.

In the New York hospital it was
said that Miss Pressman might recover.
She has no fever, and as the bullet which penetrated her chest is steel
develop. Dr. F. W. Murray and sev-
statement from the young woman, but
she refused to talk. She passed a comfortable night, smiled occasionally at
her nurses and complained of little
pain.

She will be examined with the X
bullet can be removed before fever
increased materially.

guards.

SUNDAY SCHOOL.

Lesson X.—Fourth Quarter. For
Dec. 7, 1913.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Josh. vi, 8-11, 14-
20—Memory Verse, 20—Golden Text,
Mark ix, 23—Commentary by Rev. D.
M. Stearns.

behalf of Israel reached the ears of
and took away their pride (Josh. v, 1).
Man's doings do not work that way, but
rather tend to self exaltation. It is
is of the Lord or of man. Israel shall
yet praise the Lord, proclaim His name, declare His doings among the
should be doing it now, praising His works, declaring His mighty acts (Ps. cxlv, 4).

Since He is ever waiting to work in
us and through us, why not humbly
yield and let Him, that He may be
glorified? Chapter v, 2-9, tells of the rite of circumcision, which had not
been performed since they left Egypt.
Circumcision is suggestive of a work
Abraham as a seal of the righteousness which he had, yet being uncircumcised (Rom. iv, 10). It signified
even to Israel a work in the heart,
the renouncing of the flesh and true
humility before God (Lev. xxi, 4b).

Chapter v, 10, tells of the keeping of
that they observed it during all their
wanderings. See the other two in
Ex. xii, 6; Num. ix, 5, and note that
this also teaches man's helplessness
and the mighty hand of the Lord and
points onward to the approaching deliverance of Israel from all nations (Ex. xii, 26, 27; Jer. xlii, 5-8; Luke
from heaven, continued all through
murmurings and rebellings, until at Gilgal they ate of the old corn of the
land (verses 11, 12).

In chapter v, 13-15, we have a test for
the new leader in the place of Moses
and had been honored as such at the
man with a drawn sword who announced that he was the captain of the
accept this other? See and hear him.
He fell off his face and did worship
and said, "What saith my Lord unto
as a leader and loosed his shoe from
off his foot, as he was told to do, thus
acknowledging another as proprietor
(Ex. iii, 5; Josh. v, 7).

If we would only live with shoes off,
what might we not see of the wonderful working of the Lord! But in order to see the power of God and His working we must be willing to do as seem-
ark and stepping into the water expecting it to stop flowing or marching
round Jericho blowing trumpets of
rams' horns and expecting the walls
to fall down.

What I have in mind is something
like this: Conducting a religious paper without an advertisement of any
church to use a common phrase with-
out having lectures or festivals or entertaining of any kind to help
pay expenses; believing that Bible
God, are what people need and want
rather than sermons or essays or popular talks; teaching that the same
Jesus will return in person to set up
on this earth and that He is only wait-
be gathered from all nations, that He
may receive her to Himself ere He
will lead people to give gladly to missions without personal solicitation,
even to the extent of giving $2 or more
home.

I know that such things seem to
many religious people as wild vagaries,
and yet I have personally proved the
or in most of them for over twenty years.

The ark of the covenant which was
so prominent at the crossing of the Jordan is mentioned ten times in
verses 4-13, of our lesson chapter, reminding us of the words of our Lord
in John xv, 5, "Without Me ye can do
tell of atonement by the precious
blood of the substitute (Gen. xxii, 13),
so both the ark and the trumpets and
the priests, all speak of Him who alone
can divide the sea or the river or throw
down a Jericho and who says to all
who are willing to walk with Him,
"I am with you." "I will work and
xliii, 13).

In verse 2 of our lesson the Lord
said unto Joshua, "See, I have given
do just as he was told.

All things are ours in Christ, but we
possess our possessions only by holding. Thirteen times they march
at the word from Joshua the people
destroyed except those who had not
eaten in the house of Hahab (verses 16, 17, 21, 22, 23).

Request Congress Not to Grant
Wishes of Opponents.

woman suffrage appeared before the
committee on woman suffrage should
not be created by the house. The delegation was headed by Mrs. A. M.
Dodge of New York, who was elected president of the national association
opposed to woman suffrage.

speedy action toward the ratification of the National American Woman Suffrage association which would result in a majority of women in the house and that the suffrage committee is the most efficient body for the purpose.

Speakers of the delegation, against creating a committee, were a party of the house, and they argued that it would lose more time than it would gain. This was in answer to the argument of the suffragists that the working women need of the franchise and was strongly in favor of it.

Continuity was made that the suffrage movement was sporadic in its
warranted by its members to make the suf-fragists' demand. Dodge was made that the suffrage movement had
grown to such proportions as to demand a house committee.

Boston Mayor's Statement After Inspection Following Fatal Fire.

Boston, Dec. 5. "Every one of these places should be closed," declared Mayor Fitzgerald, after he had com-
the lines of the Arundin, where twenty-eight men lost their lives in a fire.
"The conditions," continued the may-
their lodging."

He suggested the erection of model
lodging houses by the city or state.

NEW YORK STOCKS.

Following Late Decline, Stocks Continue Downward Tendency.

New York, Dec. 5.—The downward movement which started in the late trading yesterday was in evidence again this morning, nearly all the important issues selling at concessions in the first fifteen minutes, with pronounced weakness in some of the copper stocks. Amalgamated showed an initial loss of seven-eighths point with sales at 70, but quickly rallied to 70 1/4. Utah, which was ex-dividend, showed a loss of one-half point, and a decline of five-eighths point was sustained in Anaconda. Losses of one-half to three-fourths point were recorded in the important railroad issues.

After the first fifteen minutes prices of nearly all the important issues fluctuated within a narrow range, although at times trading was in large blocks. Two houses sold 5,000 shares each of Steel without causing any material change in the price of the stock. The crowd of brokers gathered in Steel was the largest seen in a long period. Nearly all of them had circulars from the Boston operator who has featured himself in such advertising for some time to the effect that if stories of his position on the short side were true he would at 10:30 a. m. put thirty-five 10,000 share buying orders in Steel common. The matter was not taken seriously, and those in the crowd engaged in sarcastic comment on the statement made in the circular. No large buying orders appeared, but there was a quiet demand sufficient to absorb the orders to sell referred to above. Europe was a moderate seller. Governments were unchanged and other bonds firm.

Although trading continued small in volume during the last half of the forenoon, the tone was firm. Reading more than recovered the loss of one-half point at the start. Slight advances were also made in Union Pacific. Steel common and Great Northern Ore.

HEARN ART NOT FOR CITY.

Merchant Leaves Collection to Wife, Property to Children.

New York, Dec. 5.—Pictures and art objects in the private collections of the late George A. Hearn, the merchant, are not to go to the city of New York under the terms of his will. All pictures in the house and in the store are left outright to Mrs. Hearn and may be sold at any time she wishes at public auction.

The will leaves to the wife an income of $30,000 a year. The remainder of the estate is left to the children of Mr. Hearn in trust, and upon their death it goes to the children's issue. Attorneys of record stated that it was impossible to give any estimate of the size of the estate.

ROYAL BAKING POWDER

Adds Healthful Qualities to the Food

Prof. Prescott, of the University of Michigan, explains why Royal Baking Powder adds healthful qualities to the food.

Testifying before the Pure Food Committee of Congress, the Professor stated that fruit acids were excellent articles of food and that of these cream of tartar, the acid of grapes, held rank with the highest both in itself and its effect in the process of leavening and baking. He regarded the results from cream of tartar baking powder as favorable to health. Scientists and hygienists are in accord with this opinion.

Royal is the only Baking Powder made from Royal Grape Cream of Tartar.

THIRTEEN DIE AS FLOODS SWEEP TEXAS

Property Damage In Inundated Area is $1,000,000.

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 5.—Rainfall continued in the flood districts of central Texas, adding to the menace of high waters, which already have cost thirteen lives and about $1,000,000 property damage. The area of overflowing rivers spread rapidly, the most important new point affected being San Antonio. The floods covered portions of nearly every county from San Antonio northward, almost to the Panhandle, and from this point eastward to include all the important cities of north and central Texas. Houston, Beaumont and Galveston alone were not threatened.

The homeless numbered thousands, but, inasmuch as they were divided into small groups throughout the immense flood territory, no serious relief problems were presented.

At Edinburg, where part of the town was cut off by water, baskets of provisions were propelled on telephonic wires to flood victims.

South Besque, near Waco, reported that the rise came in a wall of water about ten feet high. The residents had been warned.

Near Marlin 175 passengers on a Houston and Texas Central railroad train were marooned all night. The flood water rose over the rails until it occasionally lapped the lower steps of the coaches.

MISS JANE ADDAMS.

The reelection of Dr. Anna Howard Shaw as president and the reorganizing of their constitution was the chief business at the annual convention of the National Association of Suffragists. A resolution by Mrs. O. H. Belmont of New York to transfer the central offices of the national association from New York to Washington failed to arouse any sentiment in its favor, so it was withdrawn. The illness of President Wilson prevented the suffragist delegation from calling on him to set his attitude toward the cause. Miss Jane Addams of Chicago was re-elected vice president.

Clerk Used Rare Poison.

Newark, N. J., Dec. 6.—Ann and Margaret, a young South American, now a drug clerk here, was held in $20,000 bail by Police Judge Haas.

The young man was arrested charged with having drugged a woman in a theater box by stabbing a needle into her hand.

The needle was found. It was an ordinary sewing needle.

The police began examining the point, believing that it held some rare poison.

The police think the poison is of the sort used by South American Indians. The woman was Miss Marjorie Graff of 411 Jackson avenue, Brooklyn, a bride of two weeks.

Megaro claims that he committed the alleged attack upon Mrs. Graff. He admits, however, that he was found a student in the New Jersey College of Pharmacy, and that he is familiar with the use of drugs. The young man says he is the nephew of Dr. Panrazio Megaro of 315 High street, Newark. No poison or needle was found upon him when he was searched and in his favor it is said that previously he has borne a good reputation.

It was expected that Megaro would be confronted by half a dozen New York, Brooklyn and Newark girls who have had experiences recently similar to that of Mrs. Graff.

New Blood Fails to Save Man
Grand Rapids, Mich., Dec. 6.—Jacob Meyer, into whose veins a pint of blood from Clara E. Skinner was transfused in an effort to save his life, is dead. Physicians say Skinner's death is only a matter of hours. Skinner sold the pint of blood for $100 to aid his wife and son.

Whole of Colorado.

Denver, Dec. 6.—The worst snow storm in Colorado's history was still raging, although it was then showing signs of abatement. Traffic of all kinds is absolutely at a standstill. The street car tracks downtown are buried under from two to four feet of snow. Those sands fought snowdrifts to walk miles to work.

The snowfall has been from sixteen inches in Denver to forty-eight inches on parts of the continental divide. In some places the coal miners are so stuck there are thirty-eight inches of snow on the ground, and the strikers are isolated. The state troops quartered in tents experienced great hardships during the night, many tents being blown down.
